After founding FIRSTALPHA LTD in 1999 as a vehicle for studying the intricacies of the internet and web development, Richard Parsons (<https://about.me/rchrdrprns>) formed a business relationship with GODADDY.COM based in the USA to provide clients with solutions for creating a robust internet presence.

Richard's interests range from monitoring the fast changing uses of technology to studying the introduction of the latest innovative ideas in the UK.

Early in his networking 'career', he was fortunate to meet Thomas Power (<https://www.linkedin.com/pulse/social-its-personal-journey-you-your-brand-community-thomas-power/>) whose influence he rates highly.

Recently, realising that he had missed many amazing opportunities in commercial and residential property development, Richard is now focusing his networking activities on becoming proficient in all aspects of property investment and in development strategies so that he can offer an extended range of skills to new and existing investors.

Please network with Richard to learn more and think about how mutual goals might be achieved...
